BIOGRAPHY

Ross C. Allen is a litigation-focused attorney with a cross-disciplinary practice spanning real estate and corporate matters. He represents clients in litigation matters in Virginia's Circuit Courts and in United States Federal District Courts throughout the country, bringing courtroom-tested judgment to complex business and real property conflicts. Complementing his trial practice, Mr. Allen advises on and completes commercial real estate and corporate transactions, including purchase agreements, leasing, title, mechanic's liens, and zoning matters, leveraging his litigation experience to anticipate risk, protect deal value, and position clients for durable outcomes.

Recognized by Best Lawyers in America and as Virginia Business "Legal Elite" for consecutive years, Mr. Allen also serves the profession and community as a past CLE Chair of the Chesterfield Bar Association and as an Area Representative for the Real Property Section of the Virginia State Bar, and as General Counsel to the Virginia State Golf Association. He is admitted to practice in Virginia and is based in the firm's Richmond, Virginia office.
